

The Millennium Development Goals

An in-depth exploration of the MDGs and their progress

Age Range: Grades 7-9

Subject: Social Studies

Adapted from "Fighting Hunger the Rights Way" - CBU Children's Rights Centre

Overview

Critical thinking, collaborative learning

Eradicating hunger, part of MDG No.1, is the key to development. While people are hungry, all other development activities are thwarted. The hungry can concentrate on little other than their next meal. Hungry mothers give birth to hungry children, who, if they live long enough, grow into hungry adults.

Aims & Objectives

- To teach students about the Millennium Development Goals
- To develop critical thinking skills
- To reinforce the concept of a global community

Materials

- Access to the internet
- 8 pieces of poster board
- Markers, construction paper, tape, scissors, etc.

Instructions

1. Divide students into 8 groups and assign each group a MDG.
2. Have students research their assigned MDG and provide the following information:
 - What is the MDG?
 - What are the targets of that MDG?
 - How will achieving that MDG affect the lives of people around the world?
 - What progress has been made?

NOTE: Students may want to include interesting articles they find about their MDG, as well as facts they might find. (Ex. How many people don't have enough food, etc.)

3. Have each group present their posters to the rest of the class.
